

Family Support

Being a parent is one of the most important, but challenging jobs you will ever do. Intereach Family Support can help your family cope with challenges, be healthy, safe and a good place for your children to grow.

► So, how does it work?

Intereach Family Support can visit you at home or in the community, and talk about what is working well for your family, and what you are finding tough such as family violence, separation, divorce or financial hardship. This helps us understand the type of support that will suit you and your family, and what problems you want to tackle.

The practical help we can provide includes information and referral to other services, counselling, court support and help with small things that can make a big difference like time management, budgeting, household management and personal development.

► Where is it available?

Support is available to people living in the Local Government Areas of Edward River, Hay, Berrigan, Murrumbidgee and Murray River.

Phone us for a chat or arrange to meet with a Family Support Worker.

If you live in another area, please contact us and we will put you in touch with a Family Support service in your area.

► Is there a cost?

There is no cost to access this general advice and support.

We pay our respects to the Elders, both past and present, and to those of the future, for they hold the memories, the traditions, the cultures and hopes of Aboriginal Australia.

Intereach acknowledges all traditional owners and Elders past and present, particularly the traditional custodians of the lands where our offices are located and the areas where we work.
